Personal & Psychological Harassment

Personal and psychological harassment is also known as “bullying” and can include abuse of authority. This consists of abusive and unwelcome comments and behaviours or actions that offend, abuse, intimidate, humiliate, demean or cause loss of dignity to an individual and can often have the effect of interfering with a person’s work performance. Personal harassment can take place between peers and it can take place between individuals where there is a power imbalance.

“Bullying” occurs when the behaviour criticizes or degrades an individual in a persistent manner or in the presence of others. It is abusive behaviour that makes the recipient feel upset, threatened, humiliated or vulnerable. “Abuse of authority” harassment occurs when a person in a position of authority uses their position unreasonably and with the intent to interfere with an employee or the employee’s job through the use of humiliation, intimidation, threats or coercion.

A “person in authority” is typically someone who has the ability to influence or impact the working conditions of others.

Examples of personal and psychological harassment include, but are not limited to:

- Written or verbal abuse, threats and/or patronizing comments that are humiliating,
- demeaning or threatening
- Condescending remarks or behaviour which undermines self-respect
- Misuse of authority such as deliberately punitive assignments
- Reprimanding and belittling an individual publicly
- Threats to one's employment, working conditions or personal security
- Dismissive gestures, or comments
- Using patronizing behaviour, language or terminology which reinforces stereotypes and undermines self-respect or adversely affects work performance or working/learning conditions
- Practical jokes that cause awkwardness or embarrassment, that endanger an employee's safety or negatively affect work performance
- Spreading rumours or gossip about another individual
- Isolating an individual or refusing to work with an individual without justifiable reasons
- Displaying graffiti or other material which is racist, sexist, sexually explicit, ethnic-based, religious, offensive, degrading or derogatory
- Unwelcome remarks, jokes, innuendoes, or taunting about a person's appearance, body, height, weight, attire, age, marital status, political belief, political association or political activity, gender, ethnic background, race, religion, accent, sexual orientation or disability or any other prohibited grounds

Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is defined as any type of sexually-oriented conduct, comment or gesture whether intentional or not, that is unwelcome, offensive or unsolicited and has the purpose or effect of creating a work environment that is hostile or offensive.

Examples of sexual harassment include but are not limited to:

- Inquiries or comments about a person's sex life or sexual preferences.
- Unwelcome touching, leering, whistling, brushing against the body, pinching, patting, kissing or suggestive, insulting or obscene comments or gestures.
- Sexual assault.
- Demanding sexual favors in exchange for favorable reviews, assignments, promotions, or continued employment, or promises of the same.
- Refusing to work with or have contact with workers because of their sex, gender or sexual orientation.

Harassment is not:

- Appropriate performance reviews, counseling, coaching or discipline by a supervisor.
- Day to day management or supervisory decisions involving work assignments, workplace assessments or implementation of appropriate dress codes, provided they are carried out in a manner that is reasonable and not abusive.
- Physical contact necessary for the performance of the work using accepted industry standards.
- Conflict or disagreements in the workplace that are not based on one of the prohibited grounds and would reasonably be considered as acceptable within a workplace setting.
- Occasional misunderstandings, thoughtlessness or poor communications.
- Reasonable words or actions related to isolated stress or frustrations encountered in the performance of work duties.
- Consensual banter or conduct, or romantic relationships, where the people involved do not find it offensive or unwelcome and consent to what is happening.

Defining Violence

Workplace violence is defined as the exercise of physical force by a person against an employee in a workplace that causes or could cause physical harm or injury to an employee, or the attempt to exercise physical force against an employee in the workplace that could cause physical harm or injury. It also includes the threat, real or perceived, of any act of physical force or aggression. Examples of workplace violence include but are not limited to:

- Hitting, scratching, pinching, biting.
- Throwing or slamming things.
- Swearing and the use of profane language.
- Yelling and screaming.
- Direct, conditional or veiled threats.
- Practical jokes that could cause embarrassment or physical harm or injury.
- Vandalism of personal property.
- Use of or threat to use a weapon.

Workplace violence can take place in the workplace itself, or outside the workplace in a situation that is somehow connected to work. This includes threatening phone calls from one employee to another at his or her home, or any kinds of verbal or written threats or violent actions against an employee's family or property.

Domestic Violence

If Assiniboine Early Learning Centre becomes aware of domestic violence that would likely expose an employee to physical injury or harassment in the workplace, we will take every precaution reasonable in the circumstances for the protection of the employee. This could include:

- Preparing an emergency security plan including procedures for contacting police
- Exploring options for voluntary relocation of the victimized employee
- Exploring options to prevent the employee from having to deal with harassing electronic communication of any type including telephone calls, e-mails, faxes and text messages.
- Displaying domestic violence prevention information and resource lists
- Inviting community resources to provide sessions on domestic violence to employees, supervisors and managers
- Distributing a statement that the organization does not tolerate acts of violence in the workplace including domestic violence

Rights and Responsibilities Employees

All employees are responsible for ensuring that the work environment is free from discrimination, harassment and violence. Employees are expected to treat each other with respect and to speak up if they or someone else is being harassed, discriminated against or being treated with disrespect. All employees also have a responsibility to report incidents of harassment, discrimination or violence to the appropriate person, and to co-operate in any investigations, should they occur. All employees are responsible for respecting the confidentiality of anyone involved in a complaint or an investigation.

Employees have the right to file a complaint directly with the Manitoba Human Rights Commission or the Workplace Safety and Health Division. Before filing a complaint with the Workplace Safety and Health Division, the employee must ensure that the person responsible for the behaviour is requested either verbally or in writing to stop the behaviour. If an employee does file a complaint with another body, s/he must give a copy of the complaint to his/her supervisor.

If a complaint has been filed, an employee also has the right to refuse to work if the reported behaviour substantially interferes with the employee's ability to perform his or her work and the employee reasonably believes the behaviour will continue, or the employee's health or safety is jeopardized by continuing to work. If an employee refuses to work, s/he must advise his or her supervisor and must promptly notify a Workplace Safety and Health Officer in writing, identifying the reasons for refusing to work. A copy of this notification must be given to his/her supervisor. If it is determined that the employee does not have to work, he/she will be allowed to remain offsite, with pay, until disciplinary or other action has been taken, or reasonable alternative work arrangements have been made for the employee.

All supervisors are responsible for creating and maintaining a work environment that is free from discrimination, harassment and violence. This includes ensuring that this policy is accessible and communicated to their employees. They are also responsible for setting an example for appropriate workplace behavior and ensuring that inappropriate behavior is not allowed, condoned or ignored. This includes taking preventive action to avert the development, escalation or recurrence of inappropriate behavior within their areas of responsibility. Supervisors are also responsible for assisting employees who turn to them for help with concerns or complaints that fall within this policy. They may be considered party to the complaint if they fail to take corrective actions, and could be disciplined.

In addition to the responsibilities outlined above, supervisors are responsible for encouraging, supporting and providing training, plus the resources necessary for employees to fulfill their roles with respect to this policy.

Supervisors have the right to work within this policy and to expect that all employees will abide by the policy. They also have the right to be protected from frivolous or malicious claims and to manage the affairs of their area of responsibility to meet Assiniboine Early Learning Centre's objectives.

Employer

As an employer, Assiniboine Early Learning Centre has a responsibility to be aware of what is happening in the workplace and for dealing with discriminatory, harassing, disrespectful and violent incidents appropriately. Assiniboine Early Learning Centre will discipline anyone who has been found to have harassed, discriminated against or behaved violently towards a person or group of people or who retaliates in any way against anyone who has lodged a complaint or who has given evidence during an investigation. Assiniboine Early Learning Centre will also discipline supervisors who do not act properly to end harassment, discrimination and disrespectful behaviours.

Upon hiring, Assiniboine Early Learning Centre will provide all supervisors with training and education on how to prevent and respond to workplace harassment and violence and will provide refresher training on a regular basis.

Assiniboine Early Learning Centre has the right to work within this policy and to expect that all employees will abide by the policy. Assiniboine Early Learning Centre also has the right to manage the affairs of the center to meet Assiniboine Early Learning Centre's objectives.

Complaint Procedures

Employees have the right to complain if they feel they have been treated in an inappropriate manner, and are encouraged to take direct, assertive action should they experience discrimination, harassment, disrespectful or violent behaviour. Assiniboine Early Learning Centre will not tolerate any retaliation against anyone who files a complaint. All complaints will be handled in a confidential manner and the name of any complainant or respondent or the circumstances surrounding the complaint will not be disclosed and will be treated confidentially, except as necessary to investigate the complaint or as required by law. Any employee who files a complaint may be accompanied by a person of their choice during any discussions, interviews or investigations arising from the complaint.

Informal

Tell the alleged offender you find the behaviour offensive and unwelcome, and they should immediately stop such behaviour. This can be done either in person or in writing. Telling the person to “stop” may be difficult to do, but frequently it is the most effective means of eliminating the problem. Make a note of your discussion with the individual, including the date, and keep it for future reference.

Where the above cannot be done, is inappropriate, or is unsuccessful, seek immediate assistance from your supervisor. They may suggest a mediated process or a meeting to discuss and get clarification around the events that have occurred. If the supervisor is the alleged harasser, seek assistance from another supervisor or the Assiniboine Early Learning Centre Board.

The complainant shall not be compelled to proceed with a complaint and shall have the right to withdraw a complaint at any point up to the initiation of the formal process.

Assiniboine Early Learning Centre may, however, determine to proceed with the complaint as an organizational response.

The complainant and the alleged harasser may each be accompanied by a person of his/her choice during meetings conducted regarding a complaint.

Formal

Where an informal resolution cannot be done, is inappropriate or is unsuccessful, employees should submit a formal complaint in writing. Employees should seek immediate assistance from their supervisor. Record the dates, times, locations, witnesses and nature of the incidents, particularly any incidents that may have occurred subsequent to the alleged offender being told the behaviour is offensive. Management will take action on any complaint quickly and as confidentially as possible, and will let both parties to any complaint know the outcome of any investigation.

The following process will be followed:

- The employee making the claim should submit the complaint in writing. Include information on what happened, when, where, what was said, who said what, witnesses, what you did at the time.
- The supervisor will notify the alleged offender of the complaint, and will provide him/her with a copy of the written complaint. The alleged offender will be given an opportunity to consult with legal counsel, or a personal representative and to respond in writing to the allegations outlined in the formal complaint.
- The Complainant will be given a copy of the Respondent's response.
- Management may attempt to resolve the matter through discussion, or may initiate a formal investigation.
- If necessary, a formal and confidential investigation will be conducted by either a representative of Assiniboine Early Learning Centre or by an outside, impartial investigator.

Findings will be reported to management.

Management will inform the person lodging the complaint and the alleged offender of the results of the investigation.

Outcomes and Remedies

If, based on the balance of probabilities, the evidence supports the complaint, management will do whatever is necessary to stop the discrimination, harassment, or disrespectful behaviours. Any files regarding the complaint will be kept in a separate and confidential location in the supervisor's office.

Discipline may range from awareness training to disciplinary action imposed in accordance with the corrective action process.

Remedies for the employee filing the complaint may include, but is not limited to:

- A verbal or written apology from the offender
- Payment of any wages or benefits lost
- Granting of a position or promotion that was denied

If the investigation does not find evidence to support the complaint, there will be no documentation concerning the complaint placed in the file of any of the parties involved and no repercussions will occur for the person filing the complaint, if the complaint was filed in good faith.

All incidents and complaints will be taken seriously, but employees should remember that frivolous or unfair complaints are disruptive and unacceptable. Any employee, who is found to have filed a complaint that is considered frivolous, or that was filed with malicious intent, will be subject to disciplinary action.

An employee has the right to file a complaint with their provincial Human Rights Commission or their provincial Workplace Safety and Health Department. This policy is not intended to discourage or prevent the complainant from exercising any other legal rights.

Timelines

Complaints should be made as soon as possible, ideally within one month after the occurrence. Complaints will be resolved as quickly as possible, ideally within 60 days of the complaint being received where possible.

Confidentiality

Confidentiality must be distinguished from anonymity. The complainant who wishes to seek a remedy must be prepared to be identified to the alleged harasser.

Confidentiality of the persons involved in an investigation shall be maintained as appropriate and as allowed by law to protect both the complainant and the alleged harasser against unsubstantiated claims which might result in harmful or malicious gossip. It must be recognized that, to the extent that the parties choose to initiate proceedings or make comments outside the organization's internal complaint procedure, confidentiality cannot be guaranteed.

Records

Sealed records of harassment complaints will be kept in a secure location within Assiniboine Early Learning Centre's offices.
